Oyen Ball Team Win at Cereal

The Oyen ball team successfully overcame all opposition at a Cereal today, winning their first game with Chinook by a score of 5-0. The game was seven innings, Oyen scoring in two. Oyen 5, Chinook 0.

In a game between Cereal and Naco, the Cereal boys got a good lead, but their opponents tied it up again in the seventh, and two more innings had to be played before the tie was broken, the game going to Naco. Showers interfered with the game.

In the final game Oyen played Naco, and in the opening stanza tore loose with a volley of hits which netted them 6 runs. The second innings produced another four runs for Oyen and the game was conceded to them. Oyen 10, Naco 0.

The threatening weather undoubtedly kept a large number from attending the sports.

Weekly Newspaper Publishers To Meet at London

The annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association is to be held at London, Ont., on July 17th and 18th. Weekly publishers from every province in the Dominion will foregather for the purpose of renewing friendships and discussing business matters.

Since 1850 there has been an association of weekly publishers. The strength of the association has grown with the years and the improvement in the printing and publishing business has kept up with the advancement in other professions and business, due in part to the activity of the association, and in part to the willingness of its members to progress.

The meeting at London is to be addressed by some outstanding men in the editorial, printing and publishing departments, and as is usual some delightful social events for the delegates is being provided.

The newspapers association conventions have been held in Vancouver, Toronto, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Ottawa, Halifax, Bigwin Inn, with attendance around three hundred. In 1921 the members toured the west in a special train; the east in 1923, while 170 of the association toured British Isles and the continent in 1924. The Oyen News is a member of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

The presiding officer for the coming convention is Mr. H. B. Anslow of The Graphic, Campbellton, (N.B.)

85 Degrees in the Shade And Baby

It was 85 in the shade when this was written with every prospect of being warmer. A young Mother was giving her baby an airing in his buggy. Mister baby was far from happy and didn't mind letting all know it. Mother was dressed in a cool white sleeveless dress and wearing a shady hat. Baby was wearing a hot woolen close fitting hood tied under his protesting little chin. He was tucked tightly in to the buggy with several layers of blanket and on top of that a nice warm woolly shawl, and although they could not be seen it is almost certain he was wearing woollen stockings. Comparing mother's warm day outfit with baby's, is it any wonder his protests were loud and long!

Baby feels the heat just as much as Mother does and suffers more because he cannot make himself comfortable. He has to wait until some one else thinks to do it.

In the Summer heat baby's clothes should be minimum. If a Mother has any doubt let her slip her hand inside baby's clothes and if the little body feels moist then he is too warm. Clothe lightly and cover lightly so that the air may circulate freely over his skin. This keeps him cool. Give him cool boiled water between feeds. He gets thirsty too during hot days.

Do these things and a happy contented baby will be the result.

Consumption Of Wheat Found To Have Declined Considerably In Recent Years

Is wheat bread no longer the stout staff of life it used to be? Statisticians whose business it is to look into the matter find that the consumption of wheat has shrunk from 5.6 bushels per capita in 1910, to 4.2 bushels per capita in 1926. Into the cause of this decline the United States senate has ordered the secretary of agriculture and the secretary of commerce to investigate. These two departments of the Washington government are to report to the senate not later than the beginning of the session of congress which meets in December.

The result of that inquiry will be interesting to all countries in which wheat is produced on a large scale, and to no country more so than Canada. They will be curious to know if people are changing their habits of eating, and are finding more satisfaction in supplementing their grain food by other edibles. That there has been a remarkable increase in the consumption of green vegetables and fruits, and of preserved vegetables and fruits is a notorious fact, but it would be surprising to learn that the consumption of wheat foods has gained upon the consumption of wheat products so as to displace about 26 per cent, of the latter. Green vegetables and fruits in the form of salads have undoubtedly taken a considerable percentage of the demand that formerly went to most bread but their part in lowering the consumption of bread was not generally suspected to be great. Yet let any shrewd or people who take their lunches at cafeterias speak and he will probably say that it is noteworthy how generally they pass by the bread rolls and biscuits to all their order from other edibles.

Tastes change, new appeals to the appetite are brought forward, and the advice of dieticians is being followed as it never was before. It seems incredible that the decline in the consumption of wheat bread is owing to enforced frugality. A very large part of the world's population can afford better meals than they could before the war. It now appears to be the case, people diversify their foods more than in former times. The Winnipeg Free Press has taken by the women farmers to diversify their agriculture and produce more kinds of foodstuffs than they now produce—Milk and Eggs.

"We do not stop there," said the inspector curtly.

"Where?" inquired the youth.

"At the pawnbrokers'."

Poultry Registration

Growing Demand For Stock of Registered Poultry Is Shown

The Egg Laying Contest carried on by the Federal Department of Agriculture at the central farm, at Ottawa, and at certain of the experimental farms throughout the provinces, has for one of its chief objectives the discovering of registration in individual birds for registration. In a report of this contest, tests that have been held up to date of 1927, issued in Bulletin No. 105, of the Department of Agriculture, it is shown that 4,482 birds had qualified for registration. Of these, 4,130 were females, and 352 males. Females to qualify for registration are required to lay at least two hundred eggs weighing at least 24 ounces to the dozen during the fifty-one weeks under test. A male to be eligible for registration must be the son or grandson of a registered female, and his sire and grand sire must also be registered males, or the son of a registered male, and at least a second generation registered female. Both males and females are also required to pass inspection as to standard qualifications, constitutional vigour and breed type. This report indicates an enthusiastic appreciation of the registration work which is shown by the increasing numbers of birds entered for test each year, and the growing demand for stock from registered parentage.

Importing Sheep From England

Five Head From Royal Flock Purchased By H.C. Breeders

Sheep from the famous flock of its Majesty, King George, are being imported on Vancouver Island and will arrive at their new pastures in the Sooke Hills. C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, director of the White Sheep Breeders' Association, who with his long experience is one of the largest purebred-sheep breeders in British Columbia, has purchased five head from the South-down flock which has stood many years ago in the late King Edward, when Prince of Wales.

Introduction of new blood is needed to be urgently needed to improve the flocks in this province, and nowhere can this be better obtained than by the importation of purebred stock from some of the noted sheep districts of the old country, according to breeders at Victoria.

Exhibit Canadian Furs

Proposed To Send Collection To Fur Exhibition At Leipzig, Germany

An exhibit of Canadian furs valued at $75,000 will be included in the fur exposition in Leipzig, Germany, this summer. If plans of leading Canadian buyers materialize. Consideration is now being given by Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, to a proposal that the Government bear the expense of erecting and staging the exhibit. A collection of the most beautiful furs produced in this country is being made for the purpose.

Poison Gas

A monument was recently unveiled at Stenstærk commemorating the first German attack with poison gas. The inscription reads: "On April 22, 1915, the troops of the 8th Territorial Infantry Division and the 45th Infantry Division were defeated by the first cloud of gas. Since then, the victims of this abominable method of warfare have died every day in peace time."

SUN PARLORS FOR CANADIAN TRAINS

Parlor cars with glassed-in observation platforms are the latest addition to the equipment which the Canadian National Railways are using on their trains between Winnipeg and Duluth and the boat trains between Winnipeg and Port Arthur. Vita glass is used in these sun parlor cars. This type of glass letting in 75 per cent of the violet rays—the heating part of sunlight—is not able to pass through ordinary glass. The use of the windows permits unobstructed vision of the scenery and the cars have been tastefully decorated and furnished. They represent the most up-to-date type of rolling stock in use on the continent.

Solves Old Problem

Geological Survey Tells What Becomes of Rain Water and Snow

The question has been answered by the geological survey of the department of the interior, at Washington, after a three-year study of Pomeroy Basin, in Connecticut. It is regarded as a typical case. Of about 44 inches of water that falls annually in the basin as rain or snow, 21 inches flows out through streams. Twenty-three inches of it is returned to the atmosphere by the process of evaporation from the soil, water surfaces and surface objects. The rest is being drawn up by roots of plants and given off through their leaves.

Of the 21 inches that is carried away by streams, 12 inches never gets into the ground but immediately runs off, while about eight inches of the river water first finds its way underground and reappears in springs and seeps.

Encourage Sheep Raising

Project Launched in Manitoba To Place More Sheep On Farms

The plan recently launched by Lieut-Governor J. D. McCreagh, of Manitoba, to place more sheep on the farms of the province, and which led to the formation of the Manitoba Livestock Credit Company, to finance the project, is making headway in the Brandon area. A committee has been appointed, with J. C. Ridolfi, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, as chairman, to handle applications for sheep. The committee reaps no pecuniary gain and railways, banks and other large financial bodies are backing the project.

"Don't worry, I know the city rules are not to park near a plug."

Buffalo Herd Menaced By Wolves

Pack of Wolves May Have With Slaves of Slave Lake Herd.

Wolves are taking a heavier toll of buffalo from the Slave Lake reserve than Indians or disease, states J. G. D'Aoust, former warden of the reserve, who has just reached Edmonton from the north.

There is one pack of wolves in the park, between ten and fifteen in number, which kill upwards of a hundred buffalo each year, despite the efforts of the ten guardians who are continually hunting the greedy killers. D'Aoust was stationed on Slave River, 35 miles north of Chipewyan and headquarters of the reserve, in length. In this section he found the remains of 11 buffalo that had been killed by timber wolves during the last winter.

Although upwards of 10,000 buffalo have been shipped into the reserve by the government, D'Aoust declares that the wolves are not over 5,000 animals here now, including the original herd of 1,500 wood buffalo. He estimates that 75 per cent of the yearlings shipped in have died from injuries received in transit and the files which they had to face on the smallest cottonwood.

Indians living on the area enclosed by the reserve at the time it was sealed are permitted to continue to trap and hunt them, but they cannot kill any buffalo. It is very rarely that they break this regulation. "Whites are not allowed to hunt or trap within the reserve."

Using Lumber From B.C.

Japan Takes Millions Of Feet Yearly For Making Buildings

Millions of feet of British Columbia lumber are being used every year in Japan in the manufacture of buildings, according to a Vancouver man who recently visited the Orient with a view to the disposal of Canadian lumber.

"The Japanese," he stated, "are devoted to bathing as a sort of pastime, and this is making houses that take a bath once or twice a year a rare individual. Every house, even the smallest cottages, possesses a bath tub of some sort. They use 150,000,000 feet of lumber in manufacturing them, and of this much is British Columbia fir or cedar."

Most of the Japanese cling to the habit of sleeping on the floor, and for that reason they prefer to have Columbia hemlock rather than fir for flooring, because there is not so much resin in the wood and it does not warp so much. The greatest use of leather shoes are the footwear only of the rich. The great masses of the people wear wooden shoes called "geta." The girls, however, use one board foot of lumber for each pair, nearly a million feet of lumber being used annually for this purpose.

Decline Of Oratory

Declines In Parliament Are More Business Like Than Formerly

The fact that orators are now few and far between in Canadian public life is marked contrast with the number who flourished in the decades, immediately succeeding Confederation—is quite often made the subject of comment. But it could be denied that the proceedings of the several Parliaments of the Dominion are now conducted in a much more business-like manner than was formerly the case and that in spite of the decline in oratory, the tone of debate is much happier and less vitriolic. Late to serve Sherritt-Gordon has started, and by the end of August the job should be near completion. Sherritt will then take in its 1,500 ton mill.

Canadian Grasses

Scientific Study Will Result In Increasing Value Of Pastures

The scientific study of Canadian grasses has brought such good results that the Canadian farmer, in certain circumstances, will be able to triple the value of his pasture. Dr. Frank T. Sherritt, Dominion chemist from Ottawa, told the Dominion Chemical convention at Toronto, in the course of an address on the subject of the experimental farms.

Sunday School Teacher (reading of the deluge): "And then it rained for forty days and forty nights."

Bright Pupils: "And were the farmers satisfied then, teacher?"

The man who pays his debts promptly is wise enough not to owe much.

Indignant at the growth of crime on its body politics, its reputation sullied by the smugging guns of gangsters, the City of Chicago will trade its own potential deliverer the super-detective.

This creature, heretofore only a myth of fiction, will be made into a hero and blood to replace the policeman whose chief qualification often is but a stout heart.

Two of America's leading universities, both in Chicago, have hung up a banner on the wall for the heretofore undetected murderer, thief, firebrand, kidnapper, racketeer and other transgressors on the peace and comfort of society. Police strategists and chairman of the curriculum at Northwestern and Chicago universities—and perhaps Chicago will be their research laboratory.

August Vollmer, chief of police at Berkeley, Calif., will head the new department at Chicago, and will inaugurate the course at the beginning of the fall semester next October. Leonard White, professor of administration and chairman of the local community research committee at the university, who worked on the case with Chief Vollmer, said that while the course will be confined to the study of the problems of police administration, it will become eventually a study in which the student may work for a degree.

Every scheme of learning that can aid in the tracking down of a criminal will be thrown open to the student. The embryo detectives, White said, the course eventually will be designed to permit special study of one or two years as well as the full four-year college course for those who wish it. An inter-departmental committee will co-operate with Professor Vollmer to see that his students are well-grounded in all the sciences necessary to intelligent investigation.

The student undertaking the full course will study the chemistry of poisons, criminology, sociology, psychology, physics and anthropology and learn to apply the study to the investigation of crime.

West Produces Finest Wheat

German Mill Has High Opinion Of Wheat Grown in Western Canada

Wheat from the Prairie Provinces of Canada is the finest received in Germany from any country in the world, according to Johann Lange, one of the seven German millers making a tour of the North American wheat-growing and milling centres. "Canadian mills are second to none," he said, "and the quality of Canadian wheat is such that it can be accepted as representative of Canadian plants." said Mr. Lange. In one of the flour mills, the heart of the flour turned out, we have seen nothing better since we arrived on this continent."

Starred Ten Years Ago

The movement for the preservation of national historic sites in Canada dates back to the year 1910. Representations were made then to the Dominion Government urging the necessity of a national organization for the preservation of historic sites and as a result an honorary Historic Sites and Monuments Board was created. This board is composed of a number of eminent Canadian historians who have given their services without compensation.

Road To Sherritt-Gordon Mine

With the road complete, laying of steel on the 42 mile railway track, Cranberry Portage to Cold Lake, to serve Sherritt-Gordon, has started, and by the end of August the job should be near completion. Sherritt will then take in its 1,500 ton mill.

Queen City's Crown

As you see today

A year ago there was a great hole, nearly a city block in area, facing the Union Station at Oyen. Then in the bottom, half a dozen cranes were busy sorting huge pieces of steel which were being hoisted up as they were set, mecano like, into position.

On that site today stands the tallest building in the British Empire, the magnificent Royal York Hotel which, in two months more, will open the doors to its thousand rooms and welcome its first guests.

Remarkable as has been the speed with which this great Canadian Pacific Hotel has been erected, still more extraordinary to the man on the street must be the tremendous thought which went into the planning of what will be the most up-to-date institution of its kind in the world and in the working out of those arrangements that will ensure its guests the utmost in facilities and service.

There will be, for instance, radio outlets in every room, and in the concert hall, banquet hall and ballroom, which have seating capacity for nearly seven thousand people, the most modern means of amplification have been installed to provide not only that speakers and artists and musicians be thoroughly heard wherever they are speaking, but by connection through the radio room, in any other portion of the building. There is provision also for television, should this be developed, for moving picture and motion picture projection.

With its own power plant and water-works, its emergency hospital and internal and outside transportation and communication systems, the Royal York Hotel is a complete city. It has its bank and brokers' offices, its stores and shops, its community hall and recreation centre. Nothing which a progressive town might have has not been thought of and incorporated to advantage. Down in the basement is a complete printing establishment, a linotype and three presses.

With a tunnel entrance from Union Station, at the junction of all roads into the city, is the heart of "down-town" the site of the Royal York is strategic. With Lake Ontario before it, it is beautiful. The travelling contingent will join with the citizens of Toronto in their eager anticipation of the opening day in June.

Here and There

New style bucket seats for first class coaches on Canadian Pacific day fast trains have been introduced on regular trains of the company and are proving very popular. The seats are upholstered in a cool moquette material and are provided on their backs with coat rail, umbrella stand and check holder for the convenience of passengers.

The stork recently visited Canadian Pacific train No. 51 between Lethbridge and Saskatoon and left a daughter to Mrs. Maryk Alexander on her way with her husband to settle on a farm near Edmonton. Miss Fleming, government conductor of the immigration department at Quebec, was on the train. She secured a first aid kit from the conductor and took charge of the case. Mother and daughter are doing well.

Sixth annual trail ride in the Canadian Rockies will start from Banff August 1, and end a few days later at Castle Mountain-Bungallow Camp. Seven glacier-fed lakes are on the route which will form half of the long-deared High Line trail from Banff to Lake Louise. The second half will also skirt several glacial lakes. About August 8 the long distance trail ride from Lake Louise to the Columbia Icefield will make a start. This icefield covers the largest and most spectacular body of ice left on the North American continent surrounded by peaks as high as 12,000 feet. The second trail ride will take nearly three weeks.

More Boys Planning to Make Buchanan's Alaska Tour

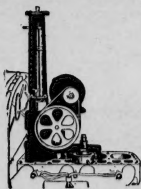

George E. Buchanan, sponsor and backer of and router for the movement of boys to Alaska, is planning to take 50 or more to the far north the coming summer. Buchanan, who is president of the Detroit Coal Exchange and five coal companies and a bachelor, believes that a trip to Alaska, which he partly earns his way, will be a wonderful formative incident in his life. He has already taken 350 boys to Alaska, and this will be his seventh annual personally conducted tour. The boys, ages 9 to 17, must earn one-third of the cost of the trip ($125.00); the parents advance a third and Buchanan has the boy one third, which is to be repaid later at the boy's leisure.

Buchanan, who gets letters from all over the United States and Canada addressed "Alaska, Buchanan, Detroit," tells the boy who writes him direct from anywhere how he can earn his third by selling pencils, kitchen towels, coal, steel ash baskets, etc. Boys who qualify go westward through Canadian Rockies, seeing Banff and Lake Louise, then north to Alaska on the "Princess Louise." They see the wonders of Alaska and return by the "Princess" to Vancouver and homeward through the United States, thus viewing the finest scenery in Canada, Alaska and the States. Buchanan goes with them on every trip and gives them his personal care.

When asked what he did if they got sick, he declared that they did not get sick, or if they had a bit of indisposition, the wonderful climate popped them up and put them back on their feet immediately. "One boy gained 19 lbs. during the month's tour," said Buchanan, and every boy has gone home a better boy physically, mentally and as a young business man. He has seen Alaska's wonders and has earned part of the money to finance the trip, which covers about $1,000 miles and lasts a whole month. One of his youngest boys, who is 5 years old, has already earned about $80, and if he gets his third together on his own effort, he will be in our party this summer, even if he is only six years old. Any boy, anywhere can be provided to get his parents' consent and earn his third.

The Singing Fool

CHAPTER I.

Cool gray dawn of a work day in the modern Babylon—New York. The black curtain of night rose slightly, seeming to trail ghostly spirals of mist. Against the sky's flat monotone the irregular and fantastic shapes of the skyscrapers stood out boldly—powerful and mysterious crests of Man.

In the dark corners of the city streets dark figures moved purposefully toward their destination—factory hands with lunch tins tucked beneath their arms, hickory-stick construction men who carried the pride of craft in their way of walking, slim girls with the vivid memory of the night's romantic dream still shining in bright eyes.

But uptown, in the glittering play places of the city, was a sharp contrasting scene. In the "roaring forties" and "fifty fifties," where denseness of Broadway and fashionable Park Avenue "make whoopee" through the sleeping hours, the night clubs were ending their day.

Through the tinted doorways came lovely ladies in ermine coats and jeweled slippers, and men with silver-tipped walking sticks, and top hats at rakish angles. Their heavy listlessness was broken occasionally by hysterical laughter.

In the lobby of the resplendent Plaza Club, Marcus, the revue producer, helped a pretty young actress into her fur coat. As he did so his arm went around her lingeringly for a moment, while she turned her graceful head and glanced knowingly into his eyes. Another man and girl of the Marcus party waited nearby.

"Well, let's call it a night," suggested Marcus, his hand resting affectionately on the girl's arm.

"No-pee-ah! Let's not go home. We can have lots of fun yet."

Her tone was wheedling, her smile gay. She was playing up to Marcus, first, because he was the boss; secondly, because she wanted her own way. And now she turned to the other couple.

"Don't let him send us home yet," she said in the tone of a spoiled child. "We're having fun. We can go to some other place."

The other man and girl nodded, and the actress turned to Marcus.

"You see?"

Marcus sighed, then made one last stand.

"All the other places will be closed," he insisted.

"No, they won't. Blackie Joe's is open—the fun is just starting down there."

The revue producer made a grimace of dissent. "But that's such a dump."

"Hey, Al! Ringside table for four!"

Al Stone, the head singing waiter and prize comic at Blackie's place, spun about. From their appearance these were important people.

"This way, ladies and gentlemen. Here's a nice spot."

The party relaxed about the round, white-topped table. Then Marcus, czar of the Broadway revues, turned to give the order. He looked up into the handsome, intelligent face of Al Stone, the obscure performer. As he did the actress next to him whispered, "Four beers?" Marcus nodded and repeated the order to Al.

The waiter straightened up and looked about for Blackie. These people were important, but he couldn't fill the order until he had the high sign from Blackie. He caught Blackie's eye and saw his right hand go up with the okay gesture. Then he turned away.

Who were these people he wondered, toward whom the boss behaved deferentially? Well, it didn't matter. You could see, to look at them, they had plenty of cash. Later he would see one of his best comic songs for them. They would probably loosen up with a good tip.

Someone else was repulsed on the Marcus party too. In the background, several tables away, stood Grace Farrell, the cigarette girl, her slim figure in a black tulle dress, her eyes wide with awe, for she had heard Al Stone whisper the words, "Marcus of Broadway."

So this was the legendary Mr. Marcus, the music business magnate. He was not a performer. He was a manager. He was a man who had been in the business for years.

His girl for "spotting" talent had made him Broadway's most notable figure in his line. To be "discovered" by Marcus meant a big career.

The car drew to a stop before the shabby exterior of Blackie Joe's place; the party mounted the narrow, unpaved, somewhat rickety stairs at the top of the peep-hole.

Turner Valley Oil

Now Producing At A Rate Of Over 830,000 Barrels Annually

In April, 1925, the Turner Valley produced 54,000 barrels of crude oil, making a total of 769,207 barrels of oil and naptha during the month.

This is the rate of production of the 830,000 barrels annually compared with 481,000 in 1923. From the present rate of production it seems likely that the Turner Valley will produce well over 1,000,000 barrels this year.

Little Helps For This Week

My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth.—John iii. 18.

Let nothing pass, for every hand must find some work to do. Love not a chance to waken love. Be firm, and just, and true. So shall a light that cannot fade beam on thee from on high. And angel voices say to thee: These things shall never die.

All the Year Round There are little things that we call little regrets. I might have said kind words, and perhaps have done kind actions to many who now are beyond the reach of them. One look on the unfortunate might have given a day's happiness; one sign over the pillow of sickness might have insured a night's repose; one whisper might have driven from their victim the furies of despair.—Walter Savage Landor.

Competing For Gold Cup

Many Swimmers Will Try England-To-Paris Crossing This Year. The channel-crossing season is on again.

What Julius Caesar did in a boat in 55 B.C., and Gertrude Ederle did in a bathing suit in 1926, A.D., has been done twice this year on ponies, bicycles, and at least a score of swimmers are in training to do what has not been done since 1925.

The swimming of the English Channel from England to France instead of vice versa.

Two bakers, a mattress maker, a couple of stenographers, a nursemaid and a Bohemian mechanic have slashed their way from the coast of France to the coast of England, and it is getting to be old stuff.

This year the really ambitious swimmers are out to perform the more difficult feat of starting from England and finishing in France, unfavorable currents to the contrary notwithstanding.

Among the men and women who have announced their intention to compete for the gold cup offered for the first England-to-France crossing this year are several who in previous years accomplished the France-to-England crawl.

Other aspirants for channel fame in 1928 include a middle-aged woman with a family of eight, an 11-year-old schoolgirl, a one-legged swimmer and an athlete, though, white-headed gentlemen of 60.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has been used for 50 years and is standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that for your own sake—now.

Remember to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

Britain Likes Canadian Honey

Is Growing In Popularity Says Assistant Trade Commissioner

"Honey is fast becoming a staple food on the British breakfast table, and the Canadian producer is enjoying a growing popularity," writes Lester S. Glass, assistant trade commissioner at Bristol, in an article in the "Commercial Intelligence Journal."

White clover honey and orange blossom honey are well thought of and South American white honey enjoys a high place in the estimation of the buying public. The British statistics for the calendar years 1924 and 1925, show a total import of honey of 72,251 cwt. and $4,415 cwt., with a value of £201,962 and £221,067 respectively.
